The Stories of Pro Bono in TN

Everyone has a first pro bono experience!
Even Supreme Court
Justices!

Q: Please describe your very first pro
bono experience that you can remember.

A: "I became a government lawyer in 1991 and a judge in 1998, so my memory
of these events goes back more than 30 years. I signed up for the pro bono project of WTLS in 1987 when I moved to Tennessee.
My office was next door to WTLS. Many people wandered into my office after leaving WTLS. I always tried to help whether they were eligible for legal aid services or not.
One of my first cases
was helping a tenant farmer in a dispute with his landlord. He was not being allowed to harvest hay that he claimed on the other person's land. Of course, nothing was in writing. I was able to help him work it out to his satisfaction."
